

Amateur Show
Saturday Nite
In Auditorium

The Colonade

Congratulations
To Jesters on Little Theater

VOL. XI.

GEORGIA STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN, MILLEDGEVILLE, GA.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1935

NUMBER 7

Little Theater Opening Featured by Play Series

Amateur Night Will be Held Saturday in Auditorium

Major Bowes and all his amateurs will be at G. S. C. W. in all their glory on Saturday night, November 23. Such talent, hidden or otherwise, will be revealed to an unsuspecting student body in the auditorium on that night, and according to advance reports, the entire show will be a surprise from the beginning to the end.

The first Amateur Night will be staged under the direction of several members of the entertainment committee. There will be a small admission charge and proceeds will be used for an entertainment program to be given later for the student body and the faculty.

Major Bowes will not be revealed until the night of the show. A prominent citizen of Milledgeville, will impersonate the famous major, and already rumors are going around concerning his identity.

As in a real Amateur show staged by the famous Major, the audience will be allowed to vote for the favorite performer. Ballots will be presented to the audience at the beginning of the show, and votes will be counted at the end of the performance. A staff of operators and receivers will be stationed in the business office to tabulate results, and the favorite performer will be announced as soon after the show as possible. Applause will also be noted and will be counted as an indication of the

(Continued on page 4)

Officers Are Selected By Granddaughters

The Granddaughters' club met in the Biology lecture room on Tuesday night for the first formal meeting of the year. Mrs. Bonnie Wells Turner spoke on the alumnae out in the state.

Plans for the year are being made under the direction of Miss Maggie Jenkins, who as vice-president of the alumnae association, will serve as adviser of the club this year. Officers include Ala Jo Brewton, president; Rosa Blue Williams, vice-president; Elizabeth Lucas, secretary; Frances Manning, treasurer; Claire Mosely, chairman of the program committee; Mattie Jo May, social chairman; Florence Harrison, chairman of the membership committee.

Membership in the Granddaughters' club is extended those G. S. C. W. Members this year students whose mothers attended include Helen Adams, Isabelle Allen, Ruby Jo Armstrong, Leona Bacon, Virginia Baston, Marion Bell, Eleanor Berry, Mary Biles, Mary Bohannon, Ala Jo Brewton, Priscella Bright, Mary H. Brown, Mary C. Bryan, Milled Burnette, Evalan Caison, Martha Cheney.

Olive Clark, Virginia Cooper,
(Continued on page 3)

Noted Atlanta Poet to Speak Here Dec. 2

The first of the lecture series for the year's lyceum program will be given on December 2 when Daniel Whitehead Hicky, noted Atlanta poet, will speak to the faculty and students.

Mr. Hicky has been in the East during the fall and will spend one week in Georgia during the first of December, at which time he will fill number of speaking engagements, among which will be at G. S. C. W.

The appearance of Mr. Hicky on the lecture series for the year is sponsored by the entertainment committee in charge of the lyceum programs. His talk will not only inaugurate the lecture series but the lyceum entertainments also. During his stay here, Mr. Hicky will be honored at a reception given by the committee in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Hicky's third book of poems was published this fall. His previous works are "Bar Harbor" and "Thirteen Sonnets of Georgia," for which he received his most favorable notices.

Third Play to Be Presented In Chappell Hall Tonight

Golf Lessons Started On November 13

A large number of golf enthusiasts, or would-be players, turned out for practice on Wednesday afternoon, which was the last day for enrollment in the class which will be taught by Miss Willa Dean Andrews, who will be assisted by Miss Billie Jennings and Aline Barron.

According to present plans, the golf class expects to initiate the new course which is being constructed at Nesbitt woods, as soon as it is completed. At present, the course will be only three holes, but will be enlarged later as the demand grows.

Several members of the class have had golf instruction before and will be able to aid those who have not. With the competent instructors, the beginners should be able to try-out the Nesbitt course as soon as it is playable.

A one-act tragedy will be presented by the play production class tonight as the first number in the series of three plays officially opening the Little Theater.

The members of the cast include Catherine Mallory, Helen Adams, Weldon Sears, Georgellen Walker, Myra Jenkins, Marjorie Lanier, and Garnette Lynes. Georgellen Walker served as student director of the play.

The first of the plays, a fantasy, was put on Thursday night. The cast included Marion Baughn, Garnette Lynes, Mrs. Martha B. Lowe, Marjorie Lanier, Myra Jenkins. Myra Jenkins also worked with the cast as student director.

A comedy was presented on Friday night. Roles were taken by Daisy Peterson, Jeanne Parker, Sara Calhoun, Ellowene Besant. The student director of the comedy was Sara Calhoun.

The three plays were presented to an audience of two hundred. The seating capacity of the Little Theater includes that number, so admission was by invitation only.

The Little Theater is a project of "The Jesters" and the class in play production under Mrs. Max Noah. It is the culmination of a movement which started two years ago when Catherine Mallory organized the dramatic club as a hobby group of the Y. W. C. A. and which became a separate society under the name "The Jesters" in 1934.

The third floor of Chappell Hall
(Continued on page 3)

Flash: Dean H. Taylor Latest Snatch Victim at O. S. C. W.

That which succeeds in one place will more than likely succeed in another—if tried in the same manner, at the same time, and by the same people, or the same type of people, according to an old Chinese adage. And if that is so, the students at the Georgia State College for Women need have no further fears regarding cuts, holidays, and what-have-you.

Dean H. Taylor, of the Oklahoma State College for Women, was kidnapped recently by a large group of his students, taken several miles from town, gagged, and bound to a tree, and left alone with his thoughts—which were probably not so well worth repeating, to young ladies, anyway.

The object of the kidnapping was to bring the dean to his right senses (so they said) in order that the students at the Oklahoma State College for Women might be allowed to have a holiday on Armistice day. He had refused repeated requests, so the students took matters in their own hands. Or, rather Dean H. Taylor in their hands.

The proper ending for such a story would be that, after returning to the sacred halls of the college (providing he returned anywhere), the dean would immediately call for an investigation, and severely punish all who took part in such an undignified act, and particularly the ringleaders.

But not so Dean H. Taylor of the Oklahoma State College for Women. After being left alone with his thoughts a short time, the respected dean reconsidered his first decision in the matter and decided that perhaps after all the girls at his school needed Armistice Day off for a rest or something. He said as much to the leaders of the snatch act, and was released immediately, given an apple to munch on the way back to school, and allowed to go on his way. Those girls at Oklahoma State
(Continued on page 3)

Frosh and Upperclass Debate Tryouts Will Be Held Soon

Plans have been started for the reorganization of the debating club and for the selection of this year's debating team which will represent G. S. C. W. in inter-collegiate debate clashes, according to an announcement made today by Dr. E. G. Cornelius, club adviser and coach for the team.

Freshman and upperclass teams will be selected at an early date, and immediately after the selection work will be begun by the debaters. Try-outs for the freshmen will be held separately from upperclass students. The subject for the freshman team will be Resolved: That Medicine Should Be Socialized. This question is the national high school and freshman subject for debates.

The subject for the upperclass students is Resolved: That Congress Should Have the Power to Override, by a Two-thirds Majority Vote, Decisions of the Supreme Court Declaring Laws Passed by Congress Unconstitutional.

The inter-collegiate debate schedule has not been completed yet and will not be released until a later date. However, the G. S. C. W. teams are assured of a number of meetings with several other colleges in the state as well as women's colleges in near-by states. The members of last year's teams met with Dr. Cornelius on Thursday and discussed plans for the reorganization of the club. Grace Greene Waynesboro, was elected chairman of the group which includes Jane Cassels, Americus; Sue Lindsey, Irwinton; Tommy Cooke, Atlanta; Mary Louise Turner, Woodbury.

When the debating club was organized last year, membership was open to all students who wished to join, whether they participated in any debates or not. This year, an intensive program has been planned and it is hoped that all who join will take an active part in the club debates.

Officers of the club will be elected at an early date, and the club will be reorganized at the same time under the direction of last year's debaters. At present, a few engagements have already been made to meet other colleges immediately after the Christmas holidays. Plans are also being made for a series of radio debates which will probably be given in March.

This is the second year of a formally organized debating club and rapid progress is being made under the direction of Dr. Cornelius. Intercollegiate debates were held last year for the first time.

Posture Week Is Slated For Nov. 25 to 30

Posture Week will be sponsored by the Recreation association during Thanksgiving week with representatives from different campus organizations competing on the last night of the week for the honor of being "Miss Posture."

Days of the week have been designated for certain activities denoting good posture. A series of programs will be given, and the contest in the auditorium on Saturday, November 30, will close the activities.

The contest will be held in the auditorium prior to the picture show. Judges will be placed in advantageous spots in the audience and at the close of the contest will award a small statue to the student adjudged "Miss Posture." Contestants will be dressed in evening clothes. Representatives from campus
(Continued on page 2)

The Colonnade

Published Weekly During School Year,
Except During Holidays and Examination
Periods By The Students of The Georgia State College for Women
MILLEDGEVILLE, GEORGIA
Corner Hancock and Clark Streets
Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year

Entered as second-class matter October 30,
1928, at the post office, Milledgeville, Ga.,
under the Act of March 3, 1879.

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor Betty Reed
Associate Editor Evelyn Aubrey
News Editors Doris Adams
Sara K. Vann
Feature Editor Martha Embrey
Y. W. C. A. Editor Elizabeth Smith
Sports Editors Grace Collier
Charlotte Edwards
Editorial Editor Grace Greene

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager Martha Fleming
Advertising Manager Avisia Athos
Advertising Assistant-Tony Cook
Frances Roeder
Elizabeth Hulsey
Exchange Editor Bonnie Burke

What's In A Name?

There has been a widespread misunderstanding on the part of people throughout the state and in other places where representatives of our college have been recently with regard to the similarity of the names of the two largest women's colleges in Georgia—the Georgia State Women's College at Valdosta and the Georgia State College for Women in Milledgeville.

To a person unacquainted with educational institutions in Georgia, the two schools are one and the same. And to a person who does happen to know that two state women's colleges exist, it is hard to distinguish which is which. If G. S. C. W. C. is mentioned he immediately thinks that it is located in Milledgeville and vice versa.

College students from the two schools are continually explaining that they are from "Georgia State College for Women—in Milledgeville, if you please." Or from "Georgia State Woman's College in Valdosta." The similarity in names is becoming quite confusing to everyone.

News stories from the two colleges have a way of being mixed, and news from our school is quite often credited to G. S. W. C., and G. S. C. W. news is listed as being from the Valdosta school.

It seems to be unnecessary for two state colleges to have such similar names. The resulting confusion could so easily be avoided, and students and faculty members would not be continually embarrassed by having to explain that they are from the "other" school, that the Georgia State College for Women is at Milledgeville, and that the school at Valdosta is an entirely separate unit of the University system.

We would like to suggest to the Powers That Be that something should be done about the situation—the Powers That Be in this case being the members of the Board of Regents.

The Georgia State College for Women—at Milledgeville, by the way—was founded in 1891. The Georgia State Woman's College, at Valdosta, was established in 1906; but nothing was done toward appropriating funds until 1911. The college opened on January 2, 1913, and on April 15, 1933, the Board of Regents directed that the Georgia State Woman's College should become the liberal arts college for women in the University System of Georgia.

G. S. C. W. was established before G. S. W. C. That fact should have some weight in the matter of changing the

Have You Anything to Say?

Wanted: one clearance day for chapel announcements from students, faculty members, and anyone else who so desires to make an announcement.

Announcements were banned from the chapel exercises this year because they had become a regular nuisance, and were quite boring, and were heard by very few people. The same people made the same announcements every day, and consequently, the announcements came to mean nothing.

Even those announcements that were heard by a number of people were of little importance, usually. And more often than not, the majority of people were not able to hear the announcements at all.

Something had to be done. Something was done. Something needs to be done right now. Granted that there were too many useless announcements at the chapel exercises last year, and granted that the situation is a great deal better than it was at that time. It is also true, that the situation, as it stands now, is not altogether satisfactory, and something should be done.

The announcement bulletin in the Colonnade each week suffices for most of the notices of meetings, and so forth. Particularly, regular meetings when all the members have to have a reminder that Tuesday is the day for all good members to attend the meeting.

But, at the first of the week, immediately after the Colonnade comes from the printer, and no announcement bulletin will reach the students and faculty before the next Monday, quite often a call meeting is necessary. Or a teacher must get in touch with a student or group of students. Telephoning to the dormitories is not always all that needs to be done to get the students. In fact, it rarely is.

Since chapel announcements are taboo, there is no way to send word to the people who are wanted. And it is practically impossible for the officers of the club to get word to all the members that there will be an important meeting of the club some night or afternoon when the regular meeting of the club is not scheduled. It is also almost impossible for a teacher to get word to a student that he wants to see her immediately.

We suggest as a possible solution a "clearance day" for all announcements from anybody. The "clearance day" is almost a necessity, and at present seems the only way to get certain notices to students and teachers. We are not suggesting, by any means, that we go back to the old chapel that consisted of announcements only. The present way is much better.

But everyone has been made to feel that nothing short of a murder is worth a public announcement in chapel. And some announcements are necessary. And chapel is the only way of getting in touch with the desired persons. So we suggest a "clearance day" where everyone can feel free to make such announcements as are necessary.

name. But the priority of establishment is not our argument. We want a change, something to do away with misunderstanding caused when the two schools are mentioned.

The change should be made because of the following reasons: there should not be two state women's colleges with names practically identical; the confusion resulting from the similarity of the names is general throughout the state and wherever the two colleges are mentioned; news items from the two schools have a way of being credited to the school to which they do not belong; some persons do not know that there are two state women's colleges, one stressing teacher training and the other liberal arts, due to the similarity of names; a college having as many students as are at Valdosta, and particularly as many as are at Milledgeville, is entitled to some identification title which may not be confused with another college, and especially a school in the same in the same school system.

This Week

(November 13th to November 24th)
(NATIONAL BOOK WEEK)

An exhibit in recognition and observance of National Book Week is on display in the main reading room of the Ina Dilford Russell library all this week.

MONDAY, Nov. 13

10:30 Chapel: Book week playlet by Mrs. McCullar's English 214 class.

4:00 to 5:00 P. M. Advanced soccer practice for those who are to play on Thanksgiving.

7:00 to 8:00 Regular meeting of Recreation Board.

8:30 Play in Little Theater. Admission by cards only.

TUESDAY, Nov. 19

5:00 P. M. Classical Guild meets in 1 Arts (Latin classroom.) Important that old members come and most important for new members.

5:00 to 6:00 P. M. Beginners' dancing in Terrell Rec. Hall.

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 20

10:30 to 11:00 A. M. Meeting of Recreation Executive Board.

4:00 to 5:00 Golf on back campus.

THURSDAY, Nov. 21

7:30 to 8:30 Regular meeting of Social Research committee in Arts Room 1.

FRIDAY, Nov. 22

4:00 to 6:00 P. M. Advanced soccer practice for those playing Thanksgiving.

SATURDAY, Nov. 23

2:00 to 3:00 P. M. Important meeting of all squad leaders. Amateur night in auditorium.

GENERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS:

All hobby groups sponsored by activity council will meet Friday. Watch bulletin board for time and place.

Faculty swimming night which has been scheduled for Wednesdays will be discontinued because of insufficient patronage. Faculty are invited to swim on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 6:00 to 6:45 and in student open hours daily from 4:15 to 6:00. (Thursday open hour is 3:00 to 4:00 and 5:00 to 6:00.)

Friday 4:00 P. M.—Faculty Recreation hour.

Save Blue Horse wrappers! Last year we won two new bicycles for our wrappers. Let's try for three bicycles this year! Five wrappers will buy you one half-hour bicycle ride.

Hikers and Bicycle Riders: Do you know that you can hike and ride off campus without faculty chaperones? See dormitory bulletin boards for list of Senior Hiking and Bicycling Chaperones and for rules covering off-campus trips. Then get up a party!

P. E. 215 students: Second grade demonstrations will be held as follows—Monday at 9:30, Tuesday at 10:00 and Thursday at 11:00. All Sophomores in P. E. 215 are required to attend one demonstration.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Attention, faculty members and club officers: Your announcements MUST be in the little green box outside the dean's office by 10 A. M. or Friday. Please plan your work far enough ahead to eliminate all except emergency announcements in chapel. Thank you.

A recent questionnaire conducted among Florida State College for Women girls revealed that radios helped them to study. Some said that the music helped them by suggesting a soothing state of mind; others said that by reminding them of home it made studying easier. No mention was made of the effect of or attitude on radios, as expressed by non-owners in the same dormitory.

At U. N. C. students are suddenly becoming addicted to viewing the "stiff" in the dissecting lab. A study of the uninitiated is interesting. A supposed human turned pale around the gills and got weakness in the knees. A supposedly experienced freshman walked up and nonchalantly finished an ice-cream cone as he surveyed a half dissected corpse.

Phillipa Kolum

Well, I'll just have to tell you (to quote the two most-quoted frosh on the campus who are always doing something that has to be told) that life is not just a bowl of cherries, as I've always thought, and that poisionally, I'm gettin' tired of lots of phases of it. Tryin' to find out some dirt, for one thing, and tryin' to find something to be happy about, for another. Gosh, doesn't somebody know something that'll change the atmosphere on this campus? Everybody goes around with the longest faces. If somebody else would find something to be happy about, I feel sure that I would be happier.

In regard to the "Down-With-X" club that was organized last week, we have four more members. That makes nine in all. And believe it or not, five of the nine are against the same "X". Honestly, that gal must be a powerhouse. What else could she be to have five S. S. and G. things worried for fear she's going to walk off with their B. F.'s? In case everybody doesn't understand about this club, here are the details: If you have a true love, and also a gal friend who doesn't believe in keeping hands off that boy friend, and you want something done about the matter, then you're automatically a member. That's all it takes—for the present. All members, later, must originate a plan to offer to the club as a possible solution to relieve the situation of the girl—the "other girl." Anything from poison on up will be considered a good idea. Particularly, if it takes quick effects.

I'll just have to tell you that some of those seniors aren't such "big" girls as they pretend to be. They've been bragging about the late hours they keep, and how they can sleep through anything (in case they do go to bed early sometimes) even if the roomies are having a swell time, hullo. Well, "tain't so, 'tain't so. Katie Bell, Donnie Doneho" and some other seniors spent the night in Bell hall last Saturday, and they never closed an eye. And all because some of the darker brethren were pitching a party in the street at the side of Bell. Katie Bell and Donnie haven't stopped raving yet.

A certain member of the faculty has not cast his evil eye upon two well-known (or much-talked about, anyway) members of the student body lately, and they are beginning to think what all he said was just poppycock. After threatening them for weeks, about publicity, and even mentioning a gun, and ruined reputations, they thought he really meant what he said, but 'tain't so, either.

Why don't you ask—"Little Audrey" who she went to ride with last Friday afternoon? Marion Garrison where Burgandy is? Juliette Myra, Minnie, Scotty, and Mildred why they've had it in for the publicity department since Sunday morning? Many Hogg why she laughs so much in French class? "Zasu" Rutland why she kept that cute boy she dated all last week-end off so nobody could get more than a peep at him? (But the peep was worth it.) And why I have to

—PHILLIPA KOLUM

With Our Alumnae Glancing At The Movies

By Bernice Brown McCullar

The first issue of The Alumnae Journal, first magazine to be published by G.S.C.W. alumnae, is in the hands of the printer, and will be in the hands of thousands of alumnae by Thanksgiving. Louise Smith, alumnae president, and her executive board, as well as other alumnae feel that this will be a bond that will draw us together as nothing else has. Those who are in charge of the publication are eager to know the opinions of all alumnae about the new magazine and hope that when your copy has been read you will write in to the alumnae office and give the editors your suggestions.

Claire Greene, Milledgeville, teaches English in Albany.

Ethyl Shelar, '17, teaches home economics in Albany.

Marjorie Neal, '31, teaches 5th grade in Edison.

Lula Mae Perry, (Mrs. J. I.) teaches in Sales City, and came up to Camilla and took capable charge of an alumnae meeting there recently held in conjunction with the district GEA meeting there.

Geraldine Reid, '33, Milledgeville teaches home economics in Morven.

Merle Merritt, '33, teaches in Fender.

Carolyn Laine, '35, teaches home economics in Climax.

Margaret Frierson, '33, teaches commercial subjects in Camilla.

Annie Ruth Mauldin, '31, teaches at Doerun.

Sarah Cochran, (Mrs. Price) Hall, '32, teaches at Newton.

Willie Kate Codwin, '25, teaches at Sumner.

Evelyn Ragsdale, (Mrs. Roger) Mallory, teaches at Omega.

Squad Captains Are Initiated At Camel's Hump

The squad captains of the Recreation association were initiated into the association last Saturday night at Camel's Hump. The officers of the Recreation group were in charge of arrangements.

The members of the executive board and the squad captains, numbering sixty, met in front of Parks Hall and hiked to Camel's Hump where supper was served. Immediately after supper, the initiation services took place.

The group was chaperoned by members of the health and physical education faculty.

Six Students Move In Practice Home

Six new girls are now living in the Home Management House of G. S. C. under the direction of Miss Clara W. Hasselcock. The new students are Hazel Mercer, Cordele; Sara Davis, Douglas; Billie Prater, Dalton; Dorothy McCarty, White Oak; Janie Lunsford, Atlanta; Carol Black, Atlanta.

It is a good thing the Italian Ethiopian War happened when it did. People were wearing themselves and everybody else down talking about the depression.

Collegiate Prattle

Definitions we never knew until we came to college:
Boat—meaning two.
Ship—method of drinking hash hall coffee.

Cull—one of the female sex.
Cheer—Something to sit in.

Shirt—part of wearing apparel.
Coat—to woo some fair young maid.

Risk—part of the lower arm.
Cuts—slang term denoting courage.

Dean's List—the head man's uneven walk.

Laboratory—a northern peninsula.

Dorm—a polite swear word.

Sox—difference between boy and girl.

Tree—a number.

Chapel—French for hat.

Idiom—and affected person.

Hyperbole—given with a needle.

—NOTAH ECHOES

The sofa sagged in the center.

The shades were pulled just so.

The family had retired.

The parlor light burned low.

There came a sound from the sofa.

As the clock was striking two.

And the student slammed his textbook.

With a thankful "Well, I'm through."

—NOTRE DAME

The Purple and White gives us the following timely identifications:

Addis Ababa: beginning of a famous poem about a black sheep.

Il Duce: a low card.

Premier Laval: a first reader for French children.

Malta: a good drink made with milk.

Anthony Eden: a well-known novel.

Hiel Hitler: just another heel.

Maxim Litvinoff: a Russian proverb.

Propaganda: a papa goose.

The monkey chattered in the tree.

Without a point, incessantly.

And thence bequeathed to man his looks.

His conversation, and his books.

—THE YELLOW JACKET

IF (with apologies to Kipling)

If you can do your math when all about you

Are raising hell and tempting all the fates;

If you can write a theme while classmates flout you,

And never think of moonlight or of dates,

If you can plug and grind and work and study,

And thereby make approbation's scanty list;

Then you'll know more than anybody—

But, dammit, think of all the fun you've missed!

—LOG

Definitions

A MAN: One who tries to kiss a girl on the first date and gets away with it.

A BRUTE: One who tries and doesn't get away with it.

A COWARD: One who doesn't try and really could have gotten away with it.

A WISE GUY: One who doesn't try and couldn't have gotten away with it.

A GENTLEMAN: One who waits until the second date to classify himself.

—THE TECHNIQUE

1935 Book Week Observed! This Week in Library

The chants of "reading for fun" that are coming from the library have lead a good many students to believe that some of the librarians or the assistants do not possess all the intelligence that such people should possess. From all corners of the library and on all the bulletin boards one is instructed to "read for fun."

And this chorus is all for a purpose. Book Week for 1935 will be observed November 17-23, and the theme for this year is "Read For Fun." The librarians have obtained a number of new books that will enable more students and faculty members to really read for fun, and the new books will be ready for use this week.

The idea of Book Week was originated more than ten years ago by Franklin K. Mathews, chief librarian for the Boy Scouts of America. Since then, the new idea, devoting a particular seven-day period of each year midway between the summer and Christmas holidays to stressing books, has grown to be a national observance by a great many people.

So few college students really ready for fun that they miss a great deal of the real enjoyment of books. The usual excuse of "no time" is always offered, when really only a very few minutes is all the time that is necessary for fun with books. It is hoped during this Book Week, at least, that more students here will avail themselves of the opportunity to have a bit of fun with the books in the Russell library, and to realize the seven joys of reading, which, according to a well-known librarian, include familiarity, surprise, sympathy, appreciation, expansion, shock, and revelation.

Dean H. Taylor Snatch Victim

(Continued from page 1)
must have loads of brawn to kidnap the dean of the school, but the girls at Georgia State would have to use a little brain power to get such results from Dean H. Taylor here. Perhaps he would listen to a good argument, and perhaps he might even change his mind—in the event that the girls here felt the urgent need of a holiday or rest day, and he thought perhaps they didn't—but kidnapping wouldn't do the trick.

But a person never can tell about the power of suggestion. The girls at this school might use the idea from the Oklahoma girls to evolve a plan of their own, and also Dean H. Taylor might take an idea from Dean H. Taylor of Oklahoma and make the situation a bit deeper.

Third Play Will Be Given Tonight

(Continued from page 1)
has been renovated by the college in recognition of a need felt by the whole school. The stage has been enlarged, a lighting system and curtains provided, and the entire room painted in readiness for a year of dramatic enterprise.

It is hoped, Mrs. Noah said, that dramatics will become an important part of the school curriculum as well as an extra-curricula activity.

Then there is the old lady who liked to complain so well that the doctor had to give her something to actually make her sick so she could enjoy life.

Jean Paul, Frederick Richter said, "It does sometimes happen that some critics have written bad books themselves, and consequently know a bad book in a moment when they come across one."

A preacher once said, "Honesty is the best policy—in the long run."

Little Willie, at the controller, ran over papa with the steam-roller.

Mama said, "Imagine that! Papa's gone and left us flat!"

On the door of the little store in Mansion dormitory there is a sign which reads, "Do your Christmas shopping early. Only 409 days until Christmas, 1934." Maxim.

A woman cannot choose for herself a firmer or purer friend than another woman's lover—Maxim.

Granddaughters Elect Leaders

(Continued from page 1)

Louise Crowder, Frances Daniell, Sara Davis, Frances Dowis, Eloise Freeman, Katherine Gibson, Frances Gillen Nell Griffith, Alice Hall, Rebecca Harber, Dorothy Hardin, Florence Harrison, Catherine Hart, Emily Henry, Anza Hillhouse, Beverly Holland, Clara Ruth, and May Hollinghead.

Vera Hooten, Ashley Horne, Anne Hubbard, Alice Humphries, Josephine Jennings, Elizabeth Lucas, Rebecca Lyle, Betty McDowell, Evelyn McNair, Catherine Mallory, Sara Malone, Betty Mathews, Mattie Jo May, Harriett Mincey, rances Mitchell, Florida Moore, Louise Morgan, Julia Morton, Claire Mosely, Willena Nolan, Helen Mosely, Frances Muldrow, Kathryn Nelson.

Dorris Peacock, Beryl Pope, Cera Eileen Prior, Dorothy Rivers, Frances Rowan, Margaret Sanders, Evelyn Senn, Betty Shell, Martha Simpson, Sara Sue Taylor here. Perhaps he would listen to a good argument, and perhaps he might even change his mind—in the event that the girls here felt the urgent need of a holiday or rest day, and he thought perhaps they didn't—but kidnapping wouldn't do the trick.

But a person never can tell about the power of suggestion.

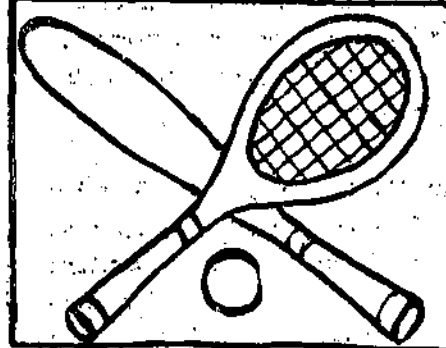

The girls at this school might use the idea from the Oklahoma girls to evolve a plan of their own, and also Dean H. Taylor might take an idea from Dean H. Taylor of Oklahoma and make the situation a bit deeper.

Posture Week November 25-30

(Continued from page 1)
clubs and organizations include Sara Owens, chemistry club; Johnny Wilson, Recreation board; Margaret Fowler, sophomore class; Mary Biles, activity council; Mary Carruth, junior class; Marguerite Brewton, squad leaders; Catherine Calhoun, Y. W. C. A. cabinet; Priscilla Bright, town girls; Betty Thompson, life savers club; LaVerne Loftin, freshman class; Ala Jo Brewton, Granddaughters club; Ashley Horne, Biology club; Allie Barron, sophomore commission; Vi James, student government; Mary Dan Ingram, history club; Avisia Athos, home economics club; Elizabeth Meadows, mathematics club; Grace Collier, Jesters.

Other representatives will be announced later.

SPORTS

Thanksgiving day is the big day. Not only is it the day that the Freshmen get to pick the turkeys, but it is the day of the soccer tournament. That all-star Freshman class will compete its team against the combined force of the upperclassmen team. Those brave freshmen may feel a chill of fear as they meet this peppy upperclass team, but in the opinion of the Sports editors the teams are unusually evenly matched and this should be a rip-roaring game.

The probable line-up will be: Freshmen—Catherine Reddick, Emily Cheeves, Yvette Kahn, Emily Williams, Ethel Brock, Nelle DeVitte.

Upper Classmen—Katy Bell Roberts, Jane Haddock, Elizabeth Stuckey, Frances Roane, Joyce Hart, Martha Griffith, Helen Price, Emily McCrany, Skeets Morton, Marguerite Spears, Lella Falkcom, Reba Mann, Lula Davis, Jeanne Parker, Minnie Allmond.

If you feel that your team could easily make use of your Soccer abilities be sure and be out to practice (it's special) on Mondays from 4:00-5:00 and on Fridays from 4:00-6:00. This practice is under the charge of Coach Candler.

The supper hike that the Recreation Board kindly gave for the Squad Leaders was one glorious affair—for the board. Ask cunning Jeanne Parker and sweet Sally Anne Pryor how they enjoyed the outing. They can probably give you some very hair-raising details of experiences. Sue Thomason was the Chairman of the Committee for the entertainment. This information is given so the Squad leaders will know who to pick the bone with, but do use moderation.

Now that the Squads have reversed their sports, maybe you too have reversed and instead of loafing are playing. We hope so. In three weeks will be the end of the Quarter Tournaments in Soccer and in Volley Ball. This will help to determine the winner of the class and color cup, so you had better sit up and take

Odd Queries Heard Daily In Library

According to the Wilson Bulletin a small boy reported to the circulation desk of the public library at Marion, S. C., that, "Father wants a book by Norris." The librarian asked whether "The Second Wife" would do. "Naw," replied the youngster, "He ain't finished with the first one yet."

Perhaps nothing quite so unusual has been asked for in the G. S. C. W. library. But after reading the following anyone

VOLLEY BALL

Mansion dormitory, Squad No. 8, won the championship in the volley ball tournament which ended last Thursday afternoon.

Every floor of each dormitory is organized into a squad under the leadership of a squad captain elected by the students. Mansion, being a small dormitory, has only one squad with "Libbo" Bostick as its captain.

These squads, consisting of as many people as will come out to play in the afternoon, practice twice a week from five to six; for three weeks, then hold a tournament. Each squad gets a certain number of points for having a large percent of their members present, for being on time, and for winning the game. Squad No. 8 made 165 points in all. It won over Squad No. 3 Thursday in the finals.

Beginning next week the squads that have been playing volley ball will start practicing soccer. After three weeks a soccer tournament will be held.

These tournaments are a part of the new recreational program being carried out by the Recreation Association. The organization of the dormitories into squads was planned to get everybody interested in sports and to get more girls to come out to the play days in the afternoon.

notice.

The Recreation Board is rapidly growing. We are all a happy family and are getting to be a big group. This week we have four new members, all fine girls, who will add their pep to the fire of enthusiasm started by the Recreation Association, and kept up by the students. Emily Cheeves has been elected class manager for the Freshman class. Sara Bethel is the Gold color captain, and Eleanor Peebles will guide the Brown Freshies as their color captain.

Nellie Engin will replace Cutie Sutton, who has resigned, as dance manager. Nellie swings a wicked foot and if you've noticed you'll see why she was chosen.

HARRINGTON'S

Cleaners and Shoe Repairing
Dressed, Cleaned 50c
One Day Service

would admit there are "queer goings-on over there" sometimes.

A freshman asked for a book recently in this manner. "I want that big black book with something about China in it." When found it was none other than Thorndike's "Short History of Civilization."

Another of the younger members of our group wanted to know, "Have you any books by Scott? Someone told me he was a good author."

Most frequently used ways of getting one of those volumes of bound pages are, "I want that red backed history book" or "I want that green math book with Dr. Park's name in the front."

Titles and authors are more often twisted than not. And when letters or stamps are left, students never seem to be able to remember even the subject of the book.

Then there is the senior who had never used the library until this year. With the present survey courses there is little chance of a freshman ever growing into that state.

"Please reserve this book for me till 5:00 o'clock this afternoon," has become a regular occurrence. Screen Magazine and Photoplay have been requested so much that the librarians are seriously considering subscribing to one of the two.

One student brought a slip to the desk with the required information plus the number of pages, illustrations, and publisher.

Miss Helen Hagan, librarian, vouches for the statement that every year when the freshmen are told to look in the card catalog to find the title, author, and number, at least four or five pull the card out and carry it to the desk.

Newcomers are not the only offenders. When a book is in the cataloging room the card is filed at the circulation desk marked "cat. room." A library assistant, who is supposed to be the wisest of the wise, wanted to know, "Where do they keep the cat?"

Special Sale Brassieres
50c to $1.00

E. E. BELL'S

Chandler's

Special Ladies' Rayon Slips
Wide Lace Trim—
$1.00 Value at 69c

WOOTTEN'S. Don't fail to see it!

Did you see the Colonnade last week? Well, it had an advertisement of that beautiful new stock of stationery at

WOOTTEN'S BOOK STORE

Series of Home Ec. Meetings Is Ended Nov. 9

The series of district meetings of the Home Economics Association, which are held annually in connection with the conventions of the Georgia Education Association, came to a close Saturday November 9th after the tenth meeting at Emory University.

The series began with the Sixth district meeting held in Milledgeville on October 14. Since that time they have been held at Thomson, Clarkesville, Camilla, Thomaston, Dalton, Douglas, Vienna, Millen, and Emory University. Among the distinguished people present at one or more meetings were: Chancellor S. V. Sanford, president of the Georgia Education Association; Mrs. Charles Center, president of the Georgia Parent-Teacher Association; Miss Clara Hasslock, president of the Georgia Home Economics Association; Dr. M. D. Collins, state superintendent of schools; and other outstanding superintendents and presidents of colleges.

The same general program has been carried out at all the district meetings which were held last year for the first time. The theme, "The Home and its Relations," was interpreted and the place of home economics in the new curriculum was discussed. Open forums were held on school lunch, follow-up of home projects, coordination of home economics with other work in the school and community, and the results of home economics work as shown in the community.

Discussions on certain matters of legislation, such as the revision of the pure food, drug, and cosmetic law and of the child labor law, were held. A great deal of stress was placed on the work of student groups in the schools. Miss Hasslock stated, "We want to see a student home economics club in every school." These clubs join affiliated clubs and thereby become members of the national home economics association.

Superintendents, home makers, extension workers, government workers, and people in business and institutional fields were urged to attend these meetings.

According to Miss Hasslock, the aim of the annual meetings is "to spread more interest among people who should be interested in home economics—especially the home makers and business women."

Superintendents, home makers, extension workers, government workers, and people in business and institutional fields were urged to attend these meetings.

According to Miss Hasslock, the aim of the annual meetings is "to spread more interest among people who should be interested in home economics—especially the home makers and business women."

BOSTON CAFE

"Where Everybody Eats"

Delicious Western Steaks
and Sea Foods

CHRISTMAS

Just Around The Corner
Let us Help You Get Ready

Williams & Ritchie
JEWELERS

Milledgeville, Ga.

ROGERS

"Where Satisfaction is A Certainty"

Hancock Street

REX CAFE

AND ICE CREAM PARLOR from a Nickel Hot Dog to a Banquet.
Double-Header Ice Cream
Cones

ROSE'S

Be one The Lookout for our
New G. S. C. W. Stationery.
You've Been Waiting for
This. (Designed by Avlona Athon)

Courtesy, Service
Dependability

HOSIERY

Plum and Fraline Brown—
All Other Popular Shades
at

LANGLEY'S

"Fashions of the Hour"

HARPER'S SHOE SHOP

For Good Work Phone 215
119 W. Hancock St.

BINFORD'S DRUG STORE

"A FRIENDLY PLACE TO TRADE"

CAMPUS

Theatre

MILLEDGEVILLE, GEORGIA

Sunday, November 17th

Kay Francis in

"THE GOOSE AND THE GANDER"

Mon. & Tues. November 18-19

Fred Astaire, Ginger Rogers in

"TOP HAT"

Wednesday, November 20th

"WITHOUT REGRET"

Thurs. & Fri. November 21-22

Will Rogers

"STEAMBOAT ROUND THE BEND"

Saturday, November 23rd

"WANDERER OF THE WASTELAND"

OWL SHOW—Saturday Night

at 10:30 O'clock.

"THIS WOMAN IS MINE"